Crawford & Company® Names Hilton Sturisky CIO

ATLANTA (Nov. 4, 2016) – Crawford & Company®, one of the world’s largest independent providers of claims management solutions to insurance companies and self-insured entities, has named Hilton Sturisky its new global chief information officer. Hilton comes to Crawford® from Spirit Airlines, where he was CIO since 2014.

“In his most recent CIO position, Hilton helped transform a legacy IT environment into a modern technology ecosystem,” said Harsha V. Agadi, Crawford® president and CEO. “He has successfully faced challenges and opportunities in his career that are similar to ours, including digital disruption, mobility and analytics.”

During his 18-plus years in the Information Technology field, Sturisky has been a strong technology leader with a proven track record of leading change, implementing business process transformation and building high-performance teams in a complex, global environment. Before joining Miramar, Fla.-based Spirit Airlines, he was global CIO at BCD Travel in Atlanta, a global leader in travel management. Prior to BCD Travel, he worked at Coca-Cola, Pfizer and Harland Clarke.

Hilton came up through the ranks as a technologist and gained credibility with his teams through his willingness to roll up his sleeves and get to the root of problems.

"I look forward to leading a renewed IT group that provides the platform to support operational excellence and strategic transformation for Crawford’s future success," Sturisky added.
