Wear Comfortable Shoes

You're going to be walking a lot. So you might as well be comfortable. Plus, no one really looks down at conferences, anyway.

Know Before You Go

Sorry for the pun, but you'd be surprised how hard it is to find the washroom. Bathrooms in the exhibit hall are located at:

Middle left of the conference room, next to the CIC Plus and Lumesse booths

Dead center of the conference room, between the Docebo and Spark Hire booths

Middle right of the conference room, next to the Essium and Jobalign booths

Ridesharing

Uber and Lyft both operate in Vegas, and they're both usually cheaper than a taxi.

Taxi Hack

When you do have to take a taxi, get directions on Google Maps first and tell your driver what route you'd like to take, so they don't end up taking you a roundabout way. This will save you time and money.

05 The $20 Rule

You probably already know The $20 Rule, but if you don't, here's the gist: $20 will get you a long way in Vegas. Here's why.

Taxi Skycap at the Airport

If you're in a hurry at the airport and the line to get a taxi stretches as far as you can see, tip the Skycap person in the baggage area $20, and they'll do their best to move you to the front of the taxi line.

Hotel Receptionist

Want a nice room upgrade? Slip the hotel receptionist a $20 bill between your credit card and ID and ask if there are any complimentary upgrades available. They'll do their best to hook you up. Check out the percentages of where this trick works best. LINK 📄

Bartenders

Want a bartender to get to you faster? Slip them a big tip on your first drink. You better believe they'll remember your face after that.

Casino Drink Servers

When you're on the casino floor, tip your server about $5 when they take your order, and they'll come back with your drink faster and return every time they make their rounds. (Also, be sure to specify what type of liquor you want. For instance, saying "whiskey and Coke" will probably mean you're going to get a gross well drink, whereas requesting a "Jack and Coke" will mean you'll probably get premium liquor.)

06 Vegas on a Budget

Listen, Vegas is expensive. Here are a few tips if you're in Vegas on a budget.

Free Wi-Fi

Need to plug into the internet for a while? Check out this list of free Wi-Fi hotspots on the Strip. LINK 📄

The $5,000 Marker

Extend Your Drinking Time at the Tables

Simple math: Casinos give free drinks to gamblers. Table games are a slower play than slot machines. Playing at the tables gives you more time for free drinks. Just don't forget to tip your server.

Never Play with the Locals

If you sit down at a table and the dealer greets everyone by name, RUN!!! You are at a local table. These people play every day, and they will take all of your money and not think twice about it.
