

Photo Captions – CCCS Sports Banquet

Photo 1

Caption 1

Daniel Allen, athletic director, Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) addresses the crowd at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner, wherein more than 70 baseball, basketball, softball, and cheerleading middle school student-athletes, were honored for their participation, in the 2016 - 2017 school year.

Photo 2

Caption 2

Here, Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) baseball coaches Daniel Rooney (far left), Brandon Dinny (far right) and members of the team pose with their trophies and certificates, at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner. This banquet was a culmination of the school's year-long sports activities, and a celebration of the accomplishments and hard work each student-athlete applied, during their teams' seasons.

Photo 3

Caption 3

Members of the Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) cheerleading team are pictured with their coaches Chavon Sanchez (far left, middle row), Renee Brown (far right, back row), at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner, wherein more than 70 baseball, basketball, softball, and cheerleading middle school student-athletes, were honored for their participation, in the 2016 - 2017 school year.

Photo 4

Caption 4

Here, Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) girls basketball coaches Charles Priest (far left, middle row), and Stephen Walker (far right, back row) and members of the team pose with their trophies, at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner. CCCS' sports program began 11 years ago, with one coach and three teams, and has now grown to include 13 coaches and six teams.

Photo 5

Caption 5

Pictured, here, is the Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) JV basketball team and coach Sean Samar (far right, back row), at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner, wherein more than 70 baseball, basketball, softball, and cheerleading middle school student-athletes, were honored for their participation, in the 2016 - 2017 school year. The sports program has produced players such as Rondae Hollis-Jefferson (not pictured), Chester native and CCCS alumnus, who currently plays for the National Basketball Association team, the Brooklyn Nets.

Photo 6

Caption 6

Pictured, here, are members of the Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) varsity basketball team and their coaches Donald Dodds (far left), Joseph Hollman (second from left), Sean Samar (far right), at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner, wherein more than 70 baseball, basketball, softball, and cheerleading middle school student-athletes, were honored for their participation, in the 2016 - 2017 school year. This year, the CCCS varsity boy's basketball team placed second in the Penn Wood basketball tournament.

Photo 7

Caption 7

Pictured, here, the Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) softball team and their coaches, Samantha Soprano (far left), Kim Nickels (second from left), Matt Jones (far right), at the recently held 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner, wherein more than 70 baseball, basketball, softball, and cheerleading middle school student-athletes, were honored for their participation, in the 2016 - 2017 season. This year, the CCCS' softball team won its first game ever, in the program's four-year existence.

Photo 8

Caption 8

Chester Community Charter School (CCCS) student-athletes, coaches and parents recently attended the 11th annual Sports Banquet and Dinner held at the Clarion Hotel in, Essington, PA. More than 70 baseball, basketball, softball, and cheerleading middle school student-athletes were honored for their participation, in the 2016 - 2017 school year.

###